THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential investment. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first and are now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

AN ADVERTISEMENT WRITTEN BY PRESIDENT WILSON

On the first page of this issue of the Sentinel will be found the reproduction of an advertisement written by President Wilson. It is an unusual thing for the President of the United States to write an advertisement, but these are unusual times and they call for unusual acts.

The advertisement written by President Wilson is an appeal to the people to purchase bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The advertisement is paid for by Stikine Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Redmen—a patriotic organization, and the oldest lodge in existence of purely American origin. It was born in patriotism, nurtured in freedom and consecrated to liberty.

It will be remembered that on a certain important date in history a party of men "disguised as Indians" rushed down upon the wharf in Boston and threw a cargo of tea overboard. The men who constituted the Boston Tea party were members of the Sons of Liberty.

The Redmen's lodge is the direct lineal descendant of the Sons of Liberty who for more than ten years prior to the Declaration of Independence had by their active work paved the way for that immortal act.

Coming down from the days of the American Revolution the Order is today intensely patriotic and broadly American. Love of country and the conservation of liberty are its guiding impulse in the present great world crisis.

The front page of this issue of the Sentinel is a graceful tribute from the Redmen to the great Chief at Washington, and adds convincing evidence of their willingness and determination to do their full share in making the Fourth Liberty Loan a triumphant success.

THE CASUALTY LISTS

How do you read the casualty lists?

Do you begin at the top, turn to the right hand column and scan the heroes by home towns? Or do you look at the names and, meeting a familiar one, look to the address to see if it is the boy you know; and, if it is, then read the subhead to see his fate?

Perhaps you start with the slightly wounded and read up to the deeper tragedies where you glance gingerly as on dangerous ground hoping and full of faith that none of the names there will bring you face to face with a supreme sacrifice made by one close and dear to you.

When the list has been read without any start of recognition you feel happy—but only for a second because you know that every name represents a splendid American who has given his blood for you here at home. You share the grief and the pride of the folks who know those names with heavy hearts.

Are you worthy of their sacrifice? You are not worthy if you do not give the best that is in you in backing them up. Those boys were asked to stop the German drive on Paris. They did it and in addition drove the Huns beyond their starting point toward the Rhine. You are asked to more than double your last Liberty Loan investment because the government needs at least six billion dollars. Think of that daily casualty list and then dare to put down one cent less than you can afford to invest when the campaign begins September 28. Why not make your investment on the first day. Go over the top with the first wave—not the last.

The Americans are splendid fighters and are wonderfully gallant in the field. Ten thousand fresh Americans arrive in France every day. The French army is the same good old army it was in 1914. TROPHIES FROM THE BATTLEFIELD

Miss Daisy McCormack Receives a Parcel from Her Brother Containing German Helmet and Other Articles of Warfare.

A collection of German trophies exhibited at the St. Michael Trading Company's store, has received considerable attention this week. The plunder was received from Europe by Miss Daisy McCormack and the package was securely sewed with wire to insure its safe delivery. No letter accompanied it so it is not definitely known which of her three brothers who are at the front sent it. Judging by the handwriting on the address, however, it is assumed that the sender is Reginald McCormack who is a sergeant in a Saskatchewan regiment. The trophies consist of a gas-mask, a searchlight, a belt and a helmet.

The helmet, which has the name Berger written on the inner band, has a hole at the front where a bullet has gone through and a dent at the back where it struck. The band is slightly bloodstained and it not hard to guess the fate of the wearer. The searchlight has heavy wire projections through which to slip the belt and flannel flaps with buttonholes to further secure it to the clothing at top and bottom. A flannel tag bears the numerals 192 in red chain stitch and is evidently an identification tag. The belt is of very heavy leather and the silver buckle bears the inscription "Providentiae Memor," encircling a crown. The words are no doubt the motto of a military division and the crown a facsimile of the Imperial crown of Germany.

RED CROSS MATTERS

A Call for Spare Clothing for Belgian Relief

The Executive Board of the local Red Cross chapter held a special meeting at the city hall Friday afternoon to consider the matter of collecting old clothing for the Belgians. Wrangell's allotment is half a ton and it was decided to canvass the town for the amount. The city hall is being used as a receiving depot with Mrs. Coulter in charge from 2 to 5 each afternoon until Friday, inclusive. Mr. Cunningham ran a slide at the photostudio announcing the particulars and a committee consisting of Mesdames Campbell, Mason, Carlson, Bronson and Johnson were assigned various districts of the town and made the canvass Monday. W. H. Warren read an appeal from the Belgian Relief at the picture show Sunday night and supplemented the reading with remarks explaining fully the need of making an effort to answer the call for help for the stricken nation.

On August 9 the War Council authorized the Bureau of Publicity to allow Red Cross school auxiliaries to subscribe to the Red Cross Magazine for twelve months at the price of $1 per magazine per annum, provided that the number of subscriptions to any one auxiliary be not less than five, and that magazines on such subscriptions be sent under one address to the Chairman of the school auxiliary, and that the chairman of the school auxiliary be responsible for their distribution.

School auxiliaries wishing to take advantage of this ruling should form their club of five or more at once and send the subscription to the Magazine at Washington without delay.

After Mr. Grant had made his report last week he received a check from Seid Chong, Chinese foreman at the Sanitary cannery, for $25 as a contribution for himself and family to the Red Cross.

Miss Grace Wigg left on the Sophia for Berkeley, California. She was accompanied as far as Seattle by her mother, Mrs. F. Wigg. From Seattle Miss Wigg will travel southward with Mr. and Mrs. Schott and Miss Sullivan and will enter the school of pharmacy at Berkeley. She will be absent from Wrangell until next July.

Have your watch repaired at George Cowan's, in the Uhler Block.

From there, after another short training period, he expects to see service overseas. Students with proper qualifications will be given officers' commissions.

A number of Wrangell people took advantage of the beautiful weather last Sunday to enjoy outings to nearby points of interest. Two parties spent the day at Pat's creek. Ed Kalkins took one party over in the "Glenn" and A. Jakobitz had a crowd of about 25 on the "May W." A. Lillian made a trip to Blind Slough with the "Bear" where Ed Grigwire proved himself the champion fisherman.

Lennet Nelson of Tokeen was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Weber Monday on a charge of giving away liquor. He was fined $100 and costs and required to make a donation of $50 to the Red Cross.

U. S. CABLE OUT OF COMMISSION

The cable ship, Burnside, has been in the bay since Monday morning, the cable having gone out of commission last Friday, thereby crippling the Sentinel bulletin service. Some difficulty was experienced in locating the cable owing to mud slides, and no repairs had been effected by Wednesday forenoon. Rumors were rife about town that the cable would be taken up instead of repaired, leaving Wrangell entirely dependent upon radio service, but this seems hardly probable.

On Tuesday a little war news was received by radio from somewhere in Alaska and the Sentinel bulletin service was resumed after being discontinued since Friday. On Wednesday the usual amount of war news came in, also by radio service.

FISH SHIPMENTS

The following fish shipments were made on the Spokane: Ripley Fish Co., 4 boxes fresh halibut and 4 boxes salmon; M. B. Dahl Co., 6 tierces and 40 barrels salted salmon; Glacier Fish Co., 5 boxes and 1 Johnson, 2 boxes fresh salmon.

On the Humboldt, Sam Bergman shipped 1 tierce mild cured and 5 barrels salted salmon.

The Columbia and Northern will ship 115 boxes of fresh fish and 150 barrels salted salmon on the Seattle.

In the Commissioner's court yesterday a fine of $25 and costs was imposed on the following persons for illegal fishing: Knute Hestnes, Ole Skaaner, P. B. Larson. In the district court at Juneau Arnt Sorset received a similar fine a few days ago.

Assistant District Attorney Steve Ragan took a Chinaman named Chin Kee off a southbound steamer this week and brought him before U. S. Commissioner Weber on a charge of gambling. Chin was fined $20 and costs.

Ed Grigwire's dandruff treatment is the best on the market. Try it and be convinced.

Isaac Arola returned Monday from a visit to Aberdeen and Hoquiam.

FOX FARMER IN TOWN.

Frederick Blitz of Telegraph Creek who is returning from a trip to Prince Rupert has been in Wrangell for several days. Mr. Blitz runs a fox farm six miles this side of Telegraph Creek. During the past few years a number of people have engaged in fox farming on the Stikine and failed. But Mr. Blitz has had enough determination to stay with his undertaking for the past nine years. He has learned the business thoroughly and is making a success. However, he would like some location where he is not shut out from the rest of the world for six months of the year. He has been favorably impressed with Wrangell, and it is rumored that he is seeking a new location in this vicinity.

Canon Butcher of Juneau who is expected to occupy the pulpit at St. Philip's during Rev. Corser's absence, was a northbound passenger on the Seattle and did not stop off at Wrangell as it was necessary for business reasons that he return to his home first, having been absent for some time. If matters can be arranged to his satisfaction, he will return on an early boat, accompanied by Mrs. Butcher.

Assistant District Attorney Steve Ragan left on the Humboldt for Ketchikan. Other passengers for the same city were Sam Bergman and A. A. Brindle.

SCHOOL NOTES

A literary society has been organized at school with the following officers: President, Florence Billion; vice-president, Neil Grant; secretary, Elton Engstrom. It is planned to hold occasional meetings to which the public will be invited and where community singing will be a prominent feature of the program. These "community sings," as they are frequently called, are very popular in the States and endorsed by leading educators as creating a bond of interest in any community.

Once a week an assembly of all the pupils of the school is held in Miss Armstrong's room. On Tuesday morning, the pupils above the primary grades sang America and two of the popular songs with Miss Ruth Lindman as accompanist. Miss Hattie Anderson gave an interesting news report. Current events is a part of the daily program in the upper grades and high school and on assembly mornings, the report is given before the entire school. Following the report Tuesday, the primary pupils sang two very well rendered selections under the direction of Miss O'Connor. In the second selection, little Beryl Cunningham and Sydney Tozier sang the first stanza very sweetly while the other little tots joined in the chorus.

At the suggestion of Mr. Henderson, Commissioner of Education for Alaska, flags will be placed in all the rooms and the hall, and the schoolboard was granted the use of a number of flags owned by the city, for this purpose. The flag salute is an important feature of the work in any school.

The study of Spanish is very much enjoyed by pupils of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades and the high school. Miss Croso is the instructor. Miss Allender has two pupils in her shorthand class, Ruth Lindman and Hattie Anderson. Miss O'Connor teaches language and geography to the third graders after the primary pupils are dismissed, thereby giving Miss Armstrong more time for the many recitations of the intermediate grades.

MEDICAL RELIEF FOR THE NATIVES

Bulletin Issued by
 Supt. Chas. Hawkesworth

The attention of teachers and natives in the District is called to the re-opening of the Juneau hospital under the superintendency of Miss Mabel Le Roy with Dr. L. P. Dawes, physician and surgeon in charge.

For the present rates will be the same as last year; seventy-five cents a day for subsistence, but those who are destitute will be cared for at the expense of the Government. Until further notice is given no charge will be made for either medicine or hospital care.

Under arrangements made with the Woman's Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church, the Haines hospital has been made into a tubercular sanitarium with Miss Florence I. Garside as superintendent. This institution will be for tubercular patients only and we desire, for the present, that those patients, for whom there is a chance for recovery, under modern methods of treatment, be sent to the Haines sanitarium.

A charge of seventy-five cents a day will be made for subsistence, to all who can pay, while the destitute will be cared for and treated at the expense of the Government.

A special meeting of the town council was held last Thursday evening for the purpose of considering the proposition of the town taking over the float owned by J. G. Grant. Although the meeting had been well advertised only three citizens other than councilmen were present. After considering the matter the town voted to take an option on the float for one year. During the life of the option the float will be kept in repair by the town.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McCay, born Sept. 15, died Sept. 18 and was buried last Friday. Rev. Clark conducted the simple service, which was private, at the home and at the grave, the body of the little one being taken to the cemetery on the Marjorie B.

BIG GAME HUNTERS PRAISE THE CASSIAR

L. J. Petit and Dr. A. T. Holbrook of Milwaukee, Return With Full Bags

L. J. Petit, president of the Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee and Dr. A. T. Holbrook, a physician of note, also of Milwaukee, arrived on the Hazel B III Friday evening. They were en route home from a five weeks' big game hunt in the Cassiar. Both gentlemen are lovers of the outdoor life. Hunting has been a hobby with Mr. Petit for years. He has hunted in Africa, South America, Mexico, Russia and other countries. In America Mr. Petit and Dr. Holbrook are experienced in hunting in Quebec province, Missisagaua region, northern Wisconsin and Michigan, the Dakotas, Florida and other states. This year they decided to try the Cassiar big game field, which, although not generally advertised, is loudly praised by the few who visit it each year.

Mr. Petit and Dr. Holbrook left Milwaukee early in August, making the trip west through Banff, Lake Louise, Glacier, Sicaumoose and the Canadian Rockies.

Arriving in Wrangell on August 13 they left at once for Telegraph Creek in order to get an early start from there and be in the big game country when the season opened on September 1.

At Telegraph Creek they outfitted for the trip and left with the McCluskey brothers, Mack and Pat, as their guides. They had a pack train of eleven horses with the Carlek brothers, Harry and John, as cook and wrangler respectively.

They went over the government telegraph trail for the first five days; then, inasmuch as they were early and anxious to be in the best fields at the opening of the season McCluskey guided them through a lot of new territory, cutting trails for the next sixteen days.

Starting with bear hunt Mr. Petit shot a large brown—a long shot across a canyon which the guide advised against as almost impossible. Five days later he killed the largest black bear taken out of the Telegraph region in a long time. Dr. Holbrook shot a double of two black bear.

The next hunt was for goats of which four fine heads were shot, ranging from 10 and 1-4 to 11 and 1-8 inches. Then sheep, with four fine heads, all between 38 and 1-2 and 40 inches. Two moose and four caribou were also added to the bag. One wounded moose which charged Mr. Petit but which he downed when about ten yards from him, furnished the most exciting incident of the trip. The four caribou heads were pronounced by the hunters and guides and all who saw them as unusually large and having well pointed horns. The largest had 45 and 46 points and were very heavy, of wide spread and fine symmetry, with large plows, some double.

The gentlemen had planned to cross the Klappan and hunt until the end of September, but their success in filling their bags to the legal limit came within the first few weeks of the season and carried them to the slopes from Iskut Lake region to this side of the Klappan in the region of Klappan crossing. They went to the Klappan river, and after a rest hit the trail for Telegraph Creek which they reached just five weeks after leaving for the mountains.

The gentlemen shot much small game, grouse, ptarmagin, ducks, coyotes, etc. They were most enthusiastic about the country and their treatment while in the north. Just before sailing south Dr. Holbrook said to the reporter: "From start to finish we have had most courteous treatment by the people with whom we have come in contact. At Telegraph Creek we were cared for in a most hospitable manner at the Hudson's Bay hotel. We were wonderfully well outfitted at Telegraph Creek by Mr. J. Frank Callbreath, while the guides were unusually satisfactory. Our trips on the Hazel B III to and from Telegraph Creek were surely delightful and left no doubt in our minds as to why Capt. Sid Barrington's name is famous in the north. At Wrangell Mr. J. G. Grant has left nothing undone to make our stay here a pleasant one. We are also indebted to Rev. H. P. Corser who spent some time acquainting us with totem lore when we were here the first time.

"We have frequently had the experience of all sportsmen who go fishing or hunting in some highly praised locality only to find disappointment, and we had discounted largely the stories told us of the Cassiar region. However, as we leave we can truthfully say there is one sportsman's paradise that more than justifies its reputation as the greatest big game hunting ground in America."
